“ we will gather together to say our goodbyes to a great man a loving uncle another one too young to go, another life went too slow.tears are hidden when I hear your name, but my heart continues to feel the pain knowing you have left us, sooner than we'd all wished. look down, you will see how much we love & care. can we have a minute to spare? to think of our memories, to realize you have gone away, to realize you are not coming back, to realize you are going to stay. everyone in this room will be thinking of you, we all know you left too soon., now you are with your The Lord and his Angels watching over us! people cry themselves to sleep,, others have pain running too deep. we need to realize you have gone to rest, we need to realize it is for the best. even though this is really hard to get through, but it is something we Can do with you watching over us.
Goodbye Uncle Archie
We all love you!!!
