“ Our hearts go out to Barry's extended family. In the short time we knew him, we came to love Barry very much. He was an amazing man, with a gift for laughter and a love of the outdoors. Above all, he was a wonderful, caring Christian man. Thank you for sharing him with us. We pray that your sorrow at his loss will be brief, and that we can all celebrate his earthly life, and thank God for creating an eternal Heaven where we can enjoy Barry's contagious laughter once again someday.

“ Brenda & Family,

Please accept my condolences in the loss of your son. I cannot imagine the loss you feel, but I know that our Lord is much larger than the pain and He alone can help you through this terrible time. I know it is such a comfort to you to know that he loved the Lord and is now with Him. I will be praying for you.

I miss seeing you and talking with you.

*Love,
Carolyn Sanderson*

“ Barry was a man unlike any other man and that is what made him so special. He lived everyday to the fullest pushing himself to be better than the day before. He overcame so much in life. Pity was not in his vocabulary and he made sure it wasn't in anyone else's either. He rose to a level that most of would just hope for in our own lives and then he exceeded that level. He was an amazing father to our daughter, Alexis. Our lives have forever changed because Barry was part of it.

He will be greatly missed by everyone. But I know he is the best place of all, Heaven. He is hanging out with those who have left us far too soon. I can see him now chatting it up with several cherished souls from Ripley Primitive Baptist. All of them smiling, knowing they are living the great eternal life now, knowing what we can only imagine.

My heart goes out to my family in Mississippi. Please know if you need anything I am phone call away. I wish I could be there to comfort you in person, but know I am thinking about you and praying for you.

Father Lord I cry out to you to wrap your heavenly arms around everyone during this sad part of our lives. I know that where we are at is only temporary that our true place is with you. But still our hearts break not having Barry with us. Lord, shower us with comfort and strength in the days to come. Amen.
