“ Chuck was a father to me when he didn't have to be. He loved me beyond what he needed to. He did so much for me and my children. He will always be in our hearts. It is hard to say goodbye to a constant in your life. I remember all the nicknames he had for me and how he picked on me. He always told me don't come home with a child (when I got married the first time), once he met my oldest Katie, he was more than ready to let me come home with her when things didn't work out. She had him wrapped around her little finger. All the grandkids did.

He was something special for sure! Katie, her sisters, and the other grands were definitely blessed to have him in their lives.
