“ Cindy I miss you so badly that you don't know how much I love you. I tried to help you out so many times but it just wasn't the right time to help. I am so sorry for what happened to you but you are with God now and you will never ever be hurt again like you was. Just rest in peace my dear daughter. You will always be on my mind and I will always miss you again more and more. Love you always, Mother

“ There are a lot of questions to be asked, but one thing I am sure of, Cindy is finally free. I loved Cindy and tried to help her many times,but the time just wasn't right for her. I want one thing to be corrected, in the obituary it shows that Dean Narron was her father, he was NOT. Her father and mother were Troy C. and Alva Blevins two wonderful people who took Cindy in and cared for her when others would not.

“ Cindy although I never met you, I enjoyed the conversation we had on the phone. I told you that I loved you and I would help you any way that I could. I didn't realize that you was so troubled but you have no more pain or worries now. To your family, my heart goes out to each one and you will be in my prayers.

“ Mom,

I am so very sorry I never told you "I love you" like I should have. I know now that it's too late for that. I am so hurt that you have chosen to go like this. You had so many people that loved and cared for you so much and yet you never knew it. There are so many questions I want answered and I know I will never get the chance to ask them nor get them. I just want you to know that I have no more hard feelings toward you. You are in a much better place now. God will take good care of you and lead you in the right direction. Please tell my father, grandmother and "dad" that I said hi and love him. " I love you mom" and I will see you again someday! R.I.P. MOM.

“ *I am so sorry that Cindy felt she had to go, but I pray that she is in a better place, and I wish we were closer through the years and I am very sad that she was so lost. Now its too late for us, but i only hope that i can tell all the special people in my life that i love them before another tragedy happens and i dont get another chance....
Cindy, you were so much more loved than you ever knew*
