“ What words can one find at a time such as this? I know not any, so please let me lift you all in prayer to the Prime Creator of all things up above, down below and in between as I summon for the Angels and Light Beings to come swiftly and comfort your heart, soul and mind with the peace and comfort that only the grace of love can give. From one parent, sibling and aunt to another I will continue to lift you all up in faith with expectation of a light heart of knowing that Duncan is okay in spirit. (((hugs and love always)))

“ *Dear Reed Family,
May each of you find comfort in knowing that God is "near to those that are broken at heart; and those who are crushed in spirit he saves." (Psalm 34;18) He has promised to soon "swallow up death forever...and wipe the tears from all faces." (Isaiah 25;8) With deepest sympathy,*

“ John, Angie, and Austin, my heart is broken for you. I have thought about you often during this time. I know that each person grieves in their own way, and that not one of you will handle this the same. So allow the Lord to help you through this difficult time. Lean on his shoulders and the prayers of many people who care about you and your family. I will continue to think about you all and will lift you to the Lord for Him to bring you peace. I am truly sorry for your loss.

“ I knew duncan as a great friend! I know you have never met me, but i would like to send my condolences for your loving family! I met Duncan with another gone but not forgotten friend... Justin Nance. I hope in this sad time that you will jesus into your heart and always remeber its not how you spent your time on earth is who you spent it with. I am proud to say i spent just a few breif moments with duncan, but those moments will last forever!! Prayers and love to your family! Kelly Morrison
