“ It's been a long time I had tried to keep in touch and I've been saying for months I needed to call him again I finally called today and when the number got disconnected I knew that something was off. I called a few months back and I told him to keep in touch but unfortunately it's not always easy to keep in touch with somebody when you got kids with disabilities. Definitely heartbroken to hear about Uncle Ricky. But at least I know he's not in pain anymore. The last time I had talked to him he had been in rehab after having the heart attacks. And while yes I know I should have kept in touch better I didnt. But I'm glad he's with Dad and the rest of his family and hopefully at peace
