“ Sue Jean favored her grandma Sally Arthur Akins Jones, Robert McKee would always say when he passed by, “she looks just like Grandma Jones” when Sue Jean was sitting on her front porch. Always loved our visits with her when she was well enough to be at home.

I love you Aunt Jean. Give my Momma and my Mammaw and Pappaw Carroll a big hug from me and my little grand daughter Ashton. You were such a precious lady. Rest easy and enjoy being home with your Savior Jesus Christ.

“ Joy! Joy! Joy! May peace as sweet as honey and all Thanksgiving to our Lord and King be in this great reunion amongst our sweet Aunt Sue Jean, Uncle James Murry, her other children and her parents! Most of all, meeting the only begotten flesh of the Father God himself! Oh how I love you Lady and what a blessing you have always been to me! Until we meet again in glory, I will hold your loving memories close in my heart. #THEOST153
