“ Our prayers are with each one in this time of sorrow. Our thoughts are with you at this time of remembering the good times that Tyler had. Tho a time to weep but also a time to rejoice in the promise that God takes care of all his children. It says Jesus wept, the shortest book in the bible so the tears should be tears of joy that Tyler now resides with Jesus. No more heartache and pain: No more worries. Tyler is not here he sits with Jesus and living the perfect life. May God bless you and all your family in the next few days. God is walking with each one of you.
